

Revisions

Claimant Count and Jobseeker's Allowance seasonally adjusted time series have been revised from January 2016 onwards to take on board the latest seasonal adjustment models and the impact of later data. Revisions to both series are generally small.

Workplace-based denominators have also been revised for these series to include new denominators for 2018 onwards and minor revisions back to 2009.